

IBM Smart Cube & GEDYS Easy CRM

“In less than an hour after powering on the Smart Cube, any company with minimal IT skills can have their business applications online.”

IBM Smart Business Team

The IBM Smart Cube is a complete, integrated platform that incorporates all the necessary hardware and software you need to run your business. Business applications for the Cube are pre-configured and loaded directly on or easily downloaded from the IBM website and fully configurable during the simple installation process.

Since CRM is critical for the overall success of your business, Relavis and IBM have joined together to deliver plug and play Easy CRM for the Cube. GEDYS Easy CRM extends the Lotus Notes platform to an out-of-the-box business application that can be used daily by all your customer-facing people. Now you can have the basic tools necessary to implement successful CRM, residing alongside all your other business critical applications in a single box that requires no IT administration or maintenance.

GEDYS Easy CRM starts you off with full contact and activity management, simple opportunity management, 360 degree view of all company and contact history, easy reporting, and full Lotus Notes integration. And because of Easy CRM’s modular nature you can add on features as you need them.
